Loud Speaker Trying To Frighten Foe With Cry 'Germans Coming'

By WEBB MILLER

British United Press. Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin.

HELSINKI, Jan. 13.—The Russians have started broadcasting to the Finns in south-eastern Finland and the Karelian Isthmus, bellowing "Surrender or the Germans will come." Loud speakers were said to have been dragged up to the front to broadcast the warning. Issued for the first time yesterday, the threat gave the Finns 48 hours to evacuate their defense lines.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Jan. 13.—A dispatch to the newspaper Berlingske Tidende said today that the Finns were trying to surround a Russian force of 40,000 men on the Salla front. Unconfirmed reports were quoted that 18,000 Red army soldiers have already been cut off. Russian airplanes, meanwhile, were said to be dropping supplies to men massed without supplies on the Salla sector.

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 13.—Swedish press dispatches reported today that Russian reinforcements had reached the Salla front—some in big transport planes—and that the Russians had repaired the Murmansk railroad so that they were now able to move troops up to the front and bring in badly needed supplies.

OSLO, Jan. 13.—It was reported in Oslo today that on the Petsamo Arctic front Russian troops had withdrawn from the town of Linnahmar and that all but one of the Russian ships in the harbor had gone. The Russians were said now to be trying to move reinforcements up to the Petsamo area.

RUSS RAIDERS DROP BOMBS ON HELSINKI

Soviet Planes Emerge From Clouds—Two Die, 20 Hurt

By WEBB MILLER

British United Press Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin.

HELSINKI, Jan. 13.—A squadron of Soviet airplanes bombed Helsinki shortly before 2 p.m. today. An official communication said that the raiders dropped approximately 30 to 40 bombs at various points. First reports indicated that two persons were killed and 20 others wounded. Several big buildings were set afire.

One of the Soviet planes was reported to have been shot down over Helsinki. Coins from the pilot's pockets fell into the street, and were picked up.

Several large holes appeared in the ice of the harbor, where it was believed, an engine from a Soviet plane crashed to earth.

One bomb struck a hospital emergency and another large bomb exploded a mile from the Hotel Kemp where newspapers were quartered. Although a mile away, the explosion shook the hotel building.

The Soviet planes emerged from the clouds at 1:50 p.m. The first bombs fell as air raid sirens shrieked at their warning. All communication with the outside world was delayed for several hours and it was impossible to put through telephone conversations to either Copenhagen or Stockholm.

HELSINKI, Finland, Jan. 13.—It was reported here today that no Italian volunteers had arrived in Finland.

Both Chips Off The Old Block

In Britain's armed forces today, two names stand out with the greatest prominence, those of Lord Gort, Commander-in-Chief of the forces in France, and Gen. Sir Edmund Ironside, Chief of the Imperial General Staff. Both are at the top of the ladder; in the family of each is one member on the "bottom rung." At the left is Swedish Venner, 27, son of Lord Gort, a humble private, though he is taking an officer's training course. In the right foreground, is Miss Elsie Ironside, Sir Edmund's only daughter, who is "doing her bit" as a member of the Women's Auxiliary Territorial Service.

Great German Spring Attacks On Several Fronts Now Loom

TEACHERS ASK RESTORATION SALARY CUTS

By HAROLD PETERS

British United Press. Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—The Budapest correspondent of the News-Chronicle said today that there were indications of a great German spring offensive on several fronts, including a drive through Hungary and another through Switzerland.

The Slovak government had been ordered by German army authorities to have all roads into Hungary ready to cope with heavy traffic by March 15, the story said.

"German road concentrations are reported in the area between West Wall and the Hungarian frontier near Deneb. About one division has already arrived there."

"On the other hand, reports from Prague state that Gestapo officials and troops have been withdrawn quietly from many parts of the protectorate and transferred to Swiss frontier districts."

This is thought to indicate a German plan to turn the Maginot Line by a sudden surprise attack which would be made without artillery preparation but with Switzer-land."

GAS MASKS ARE AGAIN POPULAR WITH BRITONS

By HAROLD PETERS

British United Press

LONDON, Jan. 13.—Gas masks regained their popularity today after two days of German air raids on the British and Scottish coasts. The usual complacency of people in the street was reported to have been noticeably shaken and gas masks, discarded weeks ago by nine persons out of 10, were again being worn.

Air raid protection authorities in London, planned a new recruitment campaign. Recruitations because of inactivity and fear of the loss of peace-time jobs, had cut heavily into the A.R.P. ranks.

EMBATTLED FINN FIGHTS TO HOLD GETTORGAD

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE

British United Press Cable Editor

The aid which the embattled Finns need to drive the invading Russian armies from their soil apparently is beginning to flow in a steady quantity from Allied and neutral countries. Paris reports that large shipments of munitions and equipment are passing through that country, destined for Finland and that volunteers for Finland's fighting forces are heading northward in increasing numbers.

R. A. F. PLANES CONDUCT LONG SURVEY FLIGHT

British United Press Cable Editor

Far As Austria and Bohemia

LONDON, Jan. 13.—Royal Air Force planes carried out the "largest survey flight in the world" today while a lone German aircraft approached the southeast coast of Scotland was shot down by British fighter planes.

The R.A.F. scouting force penetrated as far as Austria and Bohemia for the first time since hostilities broke out, and flew over northwest Germany and Holland.

The air ministry did not disclose whether the aircraft was from bases in the British Isles or whether it was an R.A.F. machine stationed in France.

The 170-mile route was because of the necessity of avoiding The Netherlands and Belgium. The flight was made in three stages, the first from Britain over a distance of about 170 miles, roughly equal to flying the Atlantic from Newfoundland to Ireland.

The second stage of the German plane in Scotland marked the fifth successive day that the enemy has approached British shores. Three planes also flew over a distance of about 170 miles, roughly equal to flying the Atlantic from Newfoundland to Ireland.

News Notes From Garrison and C.A.S.F. Units

RETURN of physical training instructors from eastern schools has seen new "zip" injected into troops of the Edmonton Garrison. "On the double" is considered slow time in these budding athletes. The new system of training has been introduced successfully and makes "physical jerks" both interesting and beneficial.

With the majority of the personnel in new battle dress, artillery units present a snappy appearance on all their parades.

Educational classes will commence shortly, according to Lt. Col. R. Brown, M.M., E.D., Garrison commandant. There will be courses in shorthand, typewriting, dramatics, conversational French and other interesting subjects. Under the supervision of Donald Cameron, director of the extension department, University of Alberta, capable educationists are giving their services to the troops to enable them better to fit themselves for civilian life if and when the proper time comes. Dates and times for the classes to be held at the Prince of Wales armory, will be announced shortly.

Twenty-four members of the Canadian Active Service Force and non-permanent active militia units presented themselves for preliminary examination before the quartermaster and quartermaster sergeant. Units represented were the 10th Field Battery, Royal Canadian Artillery, the 11th Field Battery, R.C.A., the 11th Alberta Dragoons, the Edmonton Fusiliers (M.G.) and "E" Troop Cavalry Signals.

After facing the ordeal of inspection during the past week, members of the non-permanent active militia units are anxiously awaiting the results to see whether they were to tackle the second phase of the examinations.

Part I was classed as subjects common to all arms, namely, military law, organization, map reading, field engineering, sanitation and other subjects. Part II will be on subjects peculiar to the arm of the service of the applicant, namely, machine gun, artillery.

British Actors In U.S. Will Discuss Army Entertainment

NEW YORK, Jan. 13. — British actors appearing in Broadway plays, or on this side of the water to fulfill theatrical engagements in United States and Canada, will meet at the front. Gertrude Lawrence, noted English actress, called the meeting.

The Garrison hockey team is still taking it on the chin, but it comes back fighting every time. An enjoyable game was played last Thursday at Carleton with the soldiers on the short end of a 2-0 count.

A monthly affair, inaugurated by Capt. Rev. Joseph Malone, padre to No. 4 Casualty Clearing Station, will have dominion-wide observance on Sunday, when Roman Catholic ministers of the faith will be invited to participate.

Blackout Softened

In the early weeks of the war, more casualties were suffered in England as the result of blackout accidents than in the front lines. To partially relieve the situation, these lights have been devised. They are planned for use with down-intensity street lighting, and direct their beams directly downward—not upward and outward where they might give a clue to raiding aircraft. This particular model is designed to fit on London's gas lamp standards.

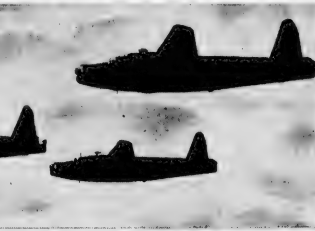

Britain's Raiders Return

LEFT RANKED with the German Navy U-boat exploit of destroying the British battleship Royal Oak at Scapa Flow was the amazing feat of British Lt. Phil Phillips in making his submarine U-204 through mine-infested waters to the heavily fortified German naval base at the mouth of the Elbe river. There he torpedoed a 6,000-ton German cruiser. The stranded Phillips is being welcomed home.

RIGHT British and German air forces fought a bitter battle over the sea, but were unable to add to the outcome. British and German seven planes lost, German planes shot down 25 to 30. These drawings (below) give a chance to battle of sea.

It seems you can't even be a "cousin" in Hollywood without getting a part. The actor played himself in the recent Motion Picture Guild film, where the character was described as a "peasant" cousin.

Young Starlet Elopes With William Powell

The film colony, that usually see all, here all, left all, was completely fooled when young William Powell, 47, eloped away to a Warm Springs, Nevada, dude ranch and married Diana Lewis, 21-year-old starlet of the films. They are shown after the wedding.

U.S. Builds Flying Battleship

Almost too huge to keep secret is the Gargantuan bomber now being built for the U.S. army at the California Douglas plant. While outline above shows how this largest of planes encompasses even the Atlantic Clipper. The bomber, a land plane, will carry a 37 mm. cannon, many machine guns, and 20 tons of bombs on a 6,000-mile cruising range.

Snow That Blooms, Tra La

If winter comes, can spring be far behind? Not in Rochester, N.Y., at least, where pretty Allyn Page brushes off a street sign to find a reminder that behind the December snowdrift lies spring—at least Spring street.

Canada Takes Over Job of Creating Air Army for Britain

Training for War In Skies!

Though Canadian citizens will be given preference, the army has now been opened for enlistment of Americans in the Royal Air Force, especially as instructors in the use of the hundreds of American planes crossing the border. As a result, Canada's air program becomes of even greater interest south of the border. Here is an on-the-spot sketch of the beginning of this vast program—EDITOR.

By WILLIS THORNTON

TRENTON, Ont., Jan. 13—High above the rugged bush country along Quinte Bay the drumming rumble of bombers falls on the ear 24 hours a day. Up into the wintry sky rear planes, every few minutes, day and night.

Nest while stuccoed barrack buildings which look almost like an American housing project stand at one corner of the Royal Canadian Air Force Training Centre. Here, some 1500 men in the blue-gray uniform of the R.C.A.F. are already in training. Here will come pilots from Australia, New Zealand, even Britain, for final specialized training before going on patrol in France.

More than enough Canadians have volunteered to fill the ranks of the Royal Canadian Air Force to date. This enthusiasm of Americans in any numbers must wait, for Canadian citizens are always given preference. But American instructors qualified in use of the American planes now crossing the border may serve without taking an oath of allegiance, and many are expected to respond in this way.

Non-Canadians must apply for flying enlistment in person in Canada and must take the oath. But they are placed on waiting lists and probably will not be called for service until the training program has greatly expanded. At present, all berths are full.

Those who know air force officer life only from the movies would be surprised to see squads of advanced pilots off drilling like infantrymen.

The playboy aspect of flying is taboo at Trenton. Air force officers are subject to discipline today.

FLYERS RECEIVE 150 HOURS SOLD

A veteran World War pilot with nearly 40 German planes to his credit looks out over the drill field. "Not too bad," he mutters, "considering that these lads have been here only three days. They're getting a lot more training than we had in our day—they'll average 150 hours' solo before they go over the line."

"I went on patrol in France with just 15 hours' solo. A chap with more training than that probably wouldn't even get a modern bomber off the ground safely, let alone handle it in a fight."

Standards for the R.C.A.F. are extremely high today. Many a Canadian applicant is turned down within weeks of passing a severe life insurance examination. One skilled pilot with 2000 hours, who has flown a dozen times over the Berkas, was turned down as color blind.

LIFE DEPENDS ON GOOD EYES

"Stems unimportant?" asked an officer. "Not a bit of it. In military landings in France in early-morning haze, your safety and that of your crew and plane depends on judgment of certain pastel shades on the ground.

When war broke, Canada had fewer than 500 war pilots. So the building of a 15,000-man force almost more or less from scratch. But when the World War ended, more than 60 per cent of R.A.F. pilots were Canadians, and so it will be again.

Flying clubs all over the Dominion were given charge of the elementary training of flying officers and of the first 50 hours of solo flight. Then comes a ground training course followed by intermediate training at a centre like Camp Borden, then at Trenton final specialized work as bomb-aiming, gunners, fighter pilots, radio operators, photographers, observers.

Nest, new blue-gray uniforms, high pay of from $17.00 to $21.00 a day for aircraft men, and $5 a day for pilots all mark off the air service as a favored branch.

CANADIAN ARMY BEST PAID IN WORLD

But all of Canada's new army is practically the best paid in the world. The base pay for privates is $3.00 a day, without the deductions that reduced the American privates' at a day in 1917 to the vanishing point. True, he must assign 15 days' pay a month to his wife, but the government also gives her from $35 to $60 a month, depending on the husband's rank, and $12 a month for each child regardless of the father's rank.

Pilots are being rushed to enlarge and equip existing airfields of the Trans-Canada Airways, especially at St. Thomas, where level country amplifies the job. Perhaps 100 new sites are planned, with air bases in Canada, Britain, Australia and New Zealand sharing the cost. This may reach $100,000,000.

There is talk of training 75,000 pilots a year. Eventually, perhaps, but not this year. Canada turned out 5,000 pilots during two years of the World War, with flying going at top speed, and with simplified training in which men flew at the front the same air craft in which they trained.

Off for a "bombing raid" near Quinte Bay. Sgt. Pilot F. M. Pearce.

Courses are longer today, because planes are more complicated.

Purpose is to take to high-altitude bombing the long-range bomber in the air. As a vast training program for communications is necessary, at St. Thomas, new barracks in western Ontario, a large hospital building, and 2,000 to 3,000 men and technicians are to be stationed there by the British.

Air training itself always brings the pressure of death. Visiting the Trenton station the same day as this writer was an elderly man whose son had died in a plane into the bay. He had come to claim the boy's effects. He was stoical and without bitterness. Canada has been chosen for this great air program partly because it is beyond bombing range of Germany. Already the splendid Canadian many.

Quaint Holland

"Gordon morgan, burrows, you look pretty startling in your new grey mask." "You're not exactly a cheerful sight, yourself, dear mother." "... both might be the greeting between these two Dutch housewives in Rotterdam as they meeting Sunday at the weekly wash. Like all Dutch men, women and children, they are practicing wearing their mask-covered faces."

Spot News

This mask wouldn't be much good in a gas attack but it fights off fleas effectively. Dark glasses and a "breath" pipe make for comfort in this fireproof sun mask worn in Miami. File by Mary Jane Dugan.
